THE RUSSIAN RETREAT.

For nearly a fortnight the world at large has watched, with ever-growing interest, the progress of a battle stretched over a frontage estimated to cover ninety miles between its extremities. At a moderate calculation three-quarters of a million of armed men must have been engaged in this titanic struggle, and the fighting necessarily took the character of a number of more or less isolated encounters on a line almost as long as the distance from Alexandria to Benha. But these several engagements have been connected by a common purpose. Marshal Oyama strove to compel the Russians to fall back from Mukden on Tieling for Harbin, and at the same time to cut off some portion of the retreating force by flanking movements. General Kuropatkin, on the other hand, held on tenaciously to his strong entrenchments south of the ancient Manchu capital, occasionally developing some counter-attack at what seemed to present a weak point in the Japanese order of battle.

On both sides the troops fought with splendid courage, and it would be difficult to determine between the attack and the defence from that standpoint. The Japanese soldier has distinguished himself throughout the campaign by ignoring losses and repulses, however severe; he always "comes again;" and Marshal Oyama, knowing this national trait, does not hesitate to humour it by repeating his efforts to force a way either through the Russian centre or round one of the enemy's flanks. General Kuropatkin, on the other hand, trusts to the stubbornness of his troops, both individually and collectively, to beat back these attempts at penetration, and it is greatly to the credit of their morale, after such an uninterrupted succession of heavy defeats and the loss of Port Arthur, that their staunchness held out for so long.

Now, however, beaten at every point, and finding his position absolutely untenable, General Kuropatkin has been obliged to beat a hasty retreat to the North, with the Japanese victors in hot pursuit. The latter are hanging on both flanks of the Russian army and pouring shells among the disordered masses, inflicting severe loss. The retreat, it is evident, has been extremely trying, and as Kuropatkin today, all further details increase the extent of the Russian disaster. An official report puts the Russian losses up to Thursday morning at 65,000 men, while Oyama estimates that the number of prisoners exceeds 30,000.
A Havas telegram tells us that "judging by the aspect of the retreat the Russians will oppose a further advance of the enemy." This would indicate that Kuropatkin had decided on fighting another of those rear-guard actions at which he is an adept, while falling back on Tieling. He had arranged to do that after his crushing defeat at Liaoyang, but the failure of General Kuroki's flanking march completely disconcerted the Japanese plan of campaign. Now, however, that the large forces lately besieging Port Arthur have gone to the front, Marshal Oyama is able to renew surrounding tactics, with a much better chance of success. On the other hand, the Russians must gain greatly by exchanging their relatively weak lines south of Mukden for the strongly entrenched position at Tieling. For the last six months they have strained every effort to render it impregnable, ceaselessly constructing formidable fortifications and mounting them with guns of position. But both flanks are liable to be turned by wide sweeping operations, and should that happen, either east-or west, General Kuropatkin will have nothing for it but to continue retreating to Harbin. As matters stand at the present moment, the immediate issue of the campaign clearly depends on the ability of the Russian commander to protect both flanks of his retreating force while defending his centre by stubborn rear-guard fighting.

posed to have been handling a bomb and to be connected with the revolutionaries. (Reuter.)

HEAVY RUSSIAN CASUALTIES.

FIGHTING EXPECTED AT TIELING.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 11. According to dispatches from Kuropatkin dated the 9th inst., no serious attacks on the south and west fronts occurred on that day. The Japanese concentrated their attacks on the north front, and continued their northward movement. They also occupied Kuisan, 20 versts east of Mukden.

Kuropatkin's despatches of the 10th state that the retreat of all our armies began last night. There was no fighting, but the rifle and cannon fire lasted all the night. (Reuter.)

LONDON, March 11. The "Times" learns from St. Petersburg that a telegram received at Tsarkooselo from Kuropatkin, and believed to have been despatched early yesterday morning by messenger to Tieling, states laconically "I am surrounded." (Reuter.)

LONDON, March 11. An official report puts the Russian losses up to Thursday morning at 65,000 men. (Reuter.)

ST. PETERSBURG, March 11. General Kuropatkin, wiring at 6.0 last night, says:—"Our retreat was most dangerous, but, thanks to extraordinary efforts, the armies are now out of danger." (Reuter.)

LONDON, March 11. The Russians continue to retreat towards the north. The Japanese, who are hanging on both flanks, are pouring shells among the disordered masses, inflicting severe losses. It is believed that the Russians cannot escape a disaster of the first magnitude, the whole army being hungry, exhausted, and demoralized. (Reuter.)

TOKIO, March 11. The Japanese on Friday surrounded the Russians east and north of Mukden. A detachment, by means of forced marching from the Hun-Ho, between Mukden and Fushu, seized the Pu-Ho 13 miles north of Mukden. The Japanese are now endeavouring to annihilate the remnant of the enemy. (Reuter.)

ST. PETERSBURG, March 11. General Kuropatkin telegraphed on the 10th inst. that the retreat was arduous, but that the troops were out of danger. (Havas.)

TOKIO, March 11. The Japanese continue to pursue the Russians vigorously. (Havas.)

TOKIO, March 11. Oyama estimates that the number of Russian prisoners exceeds 30,000.

The Japanese casualties amount to 41,000. The Japanese captured a retreating Russian column at Pu-Ho yesterday.

(Later.) In his report Marshal Oyama says that the number of Russian prisoners totals 40,000 and is increasing every moment. The Russian casualties are estimated at 90,000. The Russians left 26,500 dead on the field.

The pursuit of the Russians continues. A resumption of heavy fighting is anticipated in the vicinity of Tieling, with which the Japanese are now in touch. All further details increase the extent of the Russian disaster. The news of the victory was calmly received in Japan. (Reuter.)

ST. PETERSBURG, March 12. General Kuropatkin in his message also says:—"The retreat was especially trying for those corps at some distance away from the Mandarin road. The enemy cannonaded the route of retreat from the east and west, and also from two points on the eastern Mandarin road."

(Later.) General Kuropatkin in telegraphing yesterday throws little further light on the situation, but he mentions that he received no report from the third Army Corps. (Reuter.)

TOKIO, March 12. The Japanese have captured enormous quantities of provisions. Yesterday, they captured a Russian column on the Pu-Ho. (Havas.)

TIELING, March 12. Judging by the appearance of the retreat, the Russians will oppose a further advance of the enemy. (Havas.)

ST. PETERSBURG, March 11. It is explained that Admiral Rodjestvensky is only going North to meet the 3rd squadron, but colliers report his vessels to be covered with seaweed, and really incapable of crossing the Ocean. (Reuter.)

RUMoured PEACENEGOTIATIONS.

LONDON, March 11. The "Graphic," which more than once has obtained important information from diplomatic sources, learns that Russia has intimated to France her readiness to entertain negotiations for peace, provided a reasonable basis of discussion can be arranged. Communications on the subject of mediation are passing between London and Paris. Great Britain will communicate the Russian overtures to Japan at an early date, if this has not already been done. It is understood that Russia's action is largely due to the difficulties she has experienced regarding the loan negotiations in Paris. (Reuter.)

ST. PETERSBURG, March 11. The Foreign Office denies the rumours of peace overtures. (Reuter.)

THE TSAR'S DETERMINATION.

WAR TO THE BITTER END.

WASHINGTON, March 11. Count Cassini, in an emphatic statement, said he was acquainted several weeks ago with the Tsar's final decision to carry on the war regardless of time till he should be victorious. Preparations are already made for sending large reinforcements to General Kuropatkin. (Reuter.)

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

GAMBLING HOUSE RAID.—The Cairo police have made a night raid on a gambling den at Bab el Louk and seized the paraphernalia.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A Greek septuagenarian dropped down dead in a street in the Marina quarter yesterday. Death was due to natural causes.

SUEZ CANAL.—10 vessels passed through the Canal on the 9th inst., of which 8 were British, 1 German, 1 French. The day's receipts were frs. 253,517.07, making the total from the 1st inst. frs. 2,713,204.10.

PROPOSED INCURABLE HOSPITAL.—It is stated that the Wakis Administration intends to build a Hospital for Incurables in Cairo, and that it has applied to the Government for the free grant of a plot of land on which to build.

THE LARGEST GIRLS' SCHOOL in Egypt is the one just built by the American Mission at Luxor, and of which Miss Buchanan is the able matron. The school has accommodation for 400 boarders. It was built mainly by subscription, among the donors being Mr. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Quibell, Dr. Watson, Dr. Giffen, Rev. C. J. Finney, etc.

ENTERTAINMENT AT MILITARY HOSPITAL.—A capital game of football was witnessed on Friday on the hospital ground, between the R.A. M.C. Recreation Club and the officers of the S.S. "Arabic." The visitors won a fine game by 3 goals to 1. After the match a smoking concert was held at the hospital, where a goodly number of capital songs were rendered. The clever playing of dance music and selections by the band of the ship was highly appreciated by all present. After a very enjoyable evening the concert closed with the usual toasts and the singing of "God save the King." The "Arabic" left for Jaffa on Saturday.

CLEOPATRA CIGARETTES.—The opening of the new Cairo premises of the Cleopatra Cigarette Company takes place to-day. The site chosen is very central, being close to the Grand Continental Hotel in the Opera-square. This new cigarette company, although only started last year, has already taken a place in the front rank of manufacturers of Egyptian cigarettes of the finest brand, and numbers among its clients the Duke of Connaught and the Archduke Otto of Austria. The "Cleopatra" is essentially the cigarette "de luxe" and Nungovich Bay and Mr. Constantine Meimarchi are to be congratulated on their venture.

VIENNESE CHORAL SOCIETY.—The first performance of this great musical combination, to which we have already referred in our columns, will take place at the Ziznia Theatre on the 23rd inst., the second being given at the Khedivial Opera House, Cairo, on the following evening. It is expected that there will be a rush for seats, and intending auditors would do well to book their places betimes. The box-office is at Hack's music-stores, Cairo and Alexandria. We believe it was mainly due to the initiative and disinterested efforts of this gentleman, that the difficulties connected with bringing out such a large number of artists were overcome.

THE WHITE STAR LINER "Arabic" left Alexandria for Jaffa on Saturday afternoon and will return here on Wednesday morning, to pick up the passengers who are in Egypt, before proceeding on Monday to Naples, Villefranche, and Liverpool. We understand that the 650 odd passengers of this magnificent vessel have been enchanted with their cruise, and, considering the appointments of the "Arabic," this can readily be understood. The trip has altogether been an unqualified success. The S.S. "Republic," of the same line, left Naples yesterday and is due at Alexandria to-morrow afternoon or at daybreak on Wednesday. She will be moored at Quay 30 or 31.

M. C. L. BLIND SCHOOL BAZAAR.—We would remind our readers that the bazaar in aid of the funds of the M. C. L. Industrial School for the Blind takes place to-morrow (Tuesday). The bazaar will be held in the School for the Blind, in the Attarin quarter (Giardino Cicolan), from 3 to 6 p.m. Mrs. Gould has kindly consented to open the bazaar. By kind permission of the Colonel and officers, the band of the Royal Berkshire Regiment will be in attendance. Besides many pretty and useful articles, there will be for sale a good selection of verandah chairs and all kinds of basket work. There will also be a performance of the play, "Beauty and the Beast," by the pupils of Mrs. Anastas.

CAIRO WATER SUPPLY.

The well water supply, which the Cairo Water Company is now installing, will be in working order in June. Nine wells are already complete and the tenth is in process of completion. The amount of water which will be obtained is estimated at about five thousand cubic metres per well for every twenty-four hours. The total number of wells in the system will be about fifteen or sixteen. The water obtained from these sources has been submitted to Dr. Bitter, whose report on its hygienic character is most favorable.

The official opening of the system will probably take place next November.

NIAM-NIAM EXPEDITION.

SULTAN CAPTURED AND KILLED.

The patrol sent against the Niam-Niam Sultan Yambio, under Major Boulnois, has been entirely successful. Sultan Yambio was captured after a slight resistance, in the course of which he was mortally wounded, and has since died. No further opposition is expected.

It will be remembered that Sultan Yambio not only refused to submit to the Government but treacherously attacked an expedition under Captain Wood, who was sent to enter into friendly communications with him.

The country is being pacified, and the administration arranged.

There were no casualties on our side. The health of the troops is excellent.

ALLEGED VIOLATION OF FRONTIER.

A report has been going about referring to a violation of Egyptian frontier by Turkish troops from Tripoli. We are authorised to give the correct version of what has actually occurred.

A Turkish frontier post stationed near the Gulf of Solum has recently been strengthened, and a strong blockhouse established within a few yards of the frontier, which runs, according to the Egyptian contention, along a ridge lying parallel with the west side of the Bay of Solum. Ground between this ridge and the sea has now been occupied by the Turks, who have built storehouses there and warned off the Egyptian Coast Guards.

The numbers of the Turkish force have been much exaggerated; they total 4 officers and 100 men.

The matter is at present the subject of a diplomatic correspondence between the Egyptian and the Ottoman Government, and it is hoped a satisfactory solution will shortly be found.

Bedouin troubles in the same region are also engaging the attention of both Governments. It appears that the Sherat Bedouins were recently attacked by Sheikh Abdul Kader el Kuzza. A dozen of them were killed and the remainder took refuge among the Aulad Ali on the Egyptian side of the frontier. Shortly afterwards the Aulad Ali, crossing for pasture into Turkish territory, were raided by this sheikh and lost 85 camels. In consequence of this attack, the Aulad Ali tribe planned reprisals, threatening amongst other things to stop the sending of cattle by land from Tripoli to Alexandria.

The Government has taken measures to secure the return of cattle and camels that have been stolen and has urged the chiefs of the Aulad Ali to keep their people quiet.

It is noticeable that the number of cattle coming into Alexandria has greatly diminished this spring.

THE KHEDIVE.

The Khedive spent yesterday morning at Montazah, and in the afternoon paid a visit to his estates at Mariout.

WRECK NEAR ALEXANDRIA.

The S.S. "Zarif" left Alexandria yesterday afternoon bound for Port Said with a lighter in tow. Five hours after leaving the harbour she went ashore on the coast and was still fast as we went to press.

STRANDING OF THE "CAIRO."

Salvage operations are being carried out still on the S.S. "Cairo," whose position is, if anything, becoming worse, owing to a rather heavy sea breaking over her. No decision has as yet been come to with regard to refloating the vessel.

The action brought by Signor Novelli, the actor, against the Florio-Rubattino Company, the Captain of the "Cairo," and the Ports and Lighthouses Administration came on this morning at the Mixed Courts, before the Chambre des Referees. The case was still occupying the attention of the Court as we went to press.

NOVELLI IN ALEXANDRIA.

Papa Lebonnard was admirably performed on Saturday night at the Ziznia Theatre. This comedy of Aicard is not by any means one of the best productions of the modern French stage, but in it Novelli has found his best rôle, as it gives him ample scope for his extraordinary talents as a comedian. In fact, it would be difficult to find a more perfect study of human weakness than that presented, with such subtle realism, by the great Italian actor. His interpretation was a veritable triumph and brought forth rounds of applause.

Yesterday evening, a large and fashionable audience was present to see Novelli in Giacometti's old drama La Morte Civile. The rôle of Corrado, the prisoner, suits him admirably, and he was incomparable in the death scene. Signora Gianini, as Rosalia, his wife, supported him ably. Signori Ferrati, Piamonti, and Signa Sanipoli were good in their respective rôles. The staging was gorgeous.

For this evening, Bisson's Veglione is announced.

FUNERAL OF ME. ALBRECHT.

The funeral of Maitre Albrecht took place in Cairo at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. The funeral service was held at the Protestant (Lutheran) Church in Sharia el Maghraby, and was attended by many of the relatives and friends of the deceased, whose body, which has been embalmed, will be sent to Geneva. The Cairo Bar was largely represented and a great number of beautiful wreaths had been sent by friends and colleagues of the deceased. Among those who attended the sad ceremony we may mention Adly Pasha Yaghen, Crookshank Pasha, Me. Prunieres, Me. Herzbruch, Me. Carton de Wiart, and many other well-known members of the deceased's profession.

An eloquent and touching speech by Me. Carton de Wiart deserves to be reproduced:—

I am here delegated by the Council of the Order of Advocates, and in the name of the whole Egyptian Bar, to testify to our profound grief before the body of one who, for twenty years, was one of our most appreciated confreres, and constantly engaged in our chief legal contests. Death is always imposing and terrible, but how much more so when its victim is torn from us in the plenitude of his power, and when it seemed certain that he would survive for many years, and was still engaged in a struggle whose issue promised to be victorious! And death is most terrible in the case where he whom we mourn has succumbed to the consequences of a tragic accident which will perhaps never be explained, but the dreadful issue of which we shall never forget. Achille Albrecht had just completed his forty-second year, and half his life had been passed at the Cairo Bar. From his début at Radusa he showed himself the indefatigable worker that we knew. A lover of his profession, always in the breach, he carried his interest in his profession into those social functions where he was so popular. His extraordinary activity was shown in all his undertakings.

At the sittings where he practised till his last year, his painstaking talent in his relations with the principal administrations of the State or with the financial world with the consulates, the heads of the religious world, and of charitable societies, wherever his professional duties, varied as they are in Egyptian legal practice, called him, his honesty, his professional capabilities, his knowledge of business, his tact and diplomacy, and his pleasant manner, were widely known and admired. This is no more than a memory which we shall long respect. But this memory of the dead is the most precious heritage left to those loved ones whom he has left behind, to his brave and devoted wife, and to his children, for whom he was proud to assure a more brilliant future every day. Death, alas! has broken the bond that united his family, or rather, as we hope and believe, has transformed and spiritualised it. In a few moments we shall leave you, dear confrere and friend. You possessed many virtues, and two above all—devotion to your family and love of your work. This we shall all remember, and I feel that I am speaking, not only in the name of my confreres, who have permitted me to speak for them, but in the name of the judges, many of whom I see here, and in the name of all who are present and all who have known our dear friend, when I say that your memory will be always dear to us. Achille Albrecht, farewell!

PRINCE ADALBERT'S DEPARTURE.

H. I. H. Prince Adalbert of Prussia left Cairo for Port Said yesterday by the 11 a.m. train. Among those present at the station to see his Imperial Highness off we noticed Lord Cromer, Dr. Rucker-Jenisch, German Diplomatic Agent and Consul-General, and other notabilities.

His Imperial Highness went shopping yesterday morning near Shepherd's. He made purchases at Diemer's and Stamm's.

ANGLO-AMERICAN COMPANY.

The extraordinarily brilliant season this year has had a great effect on the receipts of all businesses connected with the tourist traffic in Egypt, and among the leading companies is the Anglo-American Nile Steamer and Hotel Company. The receipts of this company up to date have been fully thirty per cent. higher than for the corresponding period last year. It must be borne in mind that last year was not a very brilliant season, and yet the company managed to pay a dividend of six per cent. and to put a satisfactory amount in the reserve fund.

The directors, we hear, contemplate the increase of their fleet, as well as additions to the hotel on Elephantine Island, as they have had to refuse hundreds of passengers since January.

The company's freight service to Alexandria, despite great competition, has held its own most successfully, and it is intended shortly to increase the number of their steam barges.

At present the company is making all the arrangements in Egypt and the Sudan for the great American tourist agency of Clark, and are taking at the present moment no less than 350 passengers to Luxor and Assouan in different sections, either by rail or steamer. The company's steamers "Victoria" and "Mayflower" have been specially chartered to that effect.

Persons, who may be thinking of investing in this company's stock, will be interested to learn that, since January, the company has carried 500 more Nile tourists on its steamers than during the whole of the season last year.

The Comtesse de Pierrefonds is also expected at the Savoy shortly, on her return from her long trip up the Nile.

Capt. C. V. N. Percival, Rifle Brigade, has joined the Egyptian Army and been given the rank of Bimbashi.

The Savoy small dance on Saturday evening was quite as enjoyable and well-attended as its predecessors. The restaurant and the private dining-rooms, as well as the terrace, were full up both for dinner and supper. Amongst those who entertained large parties, we noticed Baron van Haeften, his guests including the Misses Assia and Alla Zakrevsky, Mme de Weerth, Mr. Clarence Forester-Walker, Mrs. and Miss Carey, Miss Cantlin, Mr. E. Maok a party of 3, Mrs. Thurlow a party of 6, Mr. and Mrs. James Coats a party of 5, etc.

Next Tuesday's fancy-dress ball at the Savoy promises to be a great success; most of the tables are already engaged both for dinner and supper. No special tickets have been issued, but the season tickets for the Savoy small dances will be available for that night. A fine of ten shillings will be inflicted on those who are not in fancy-dress or poudré.

OBITUARY.

GEORGE CARR-GLYN.

We deeply regret to have to record the death, which took place at noon yesterday at Mrs. Hutchinson's Nursing Home, Cairo, from pneumonia, of Mr. George Carr-Glyn. Deceased, who was a son of the well-known London banker, had been for the last couple of years in this country employed with the Bank of Egypt, having been sent here for the benefit of his health. Tilt quite recently he was in the Alexandria office of the bank and made himself very popular here, having a large circle of friends, who will sincerely mourn his loss. His mother was on her way out to nurse him, and received the sad intelligence of the death of her son at Brindisi yesterday evening. Deceased was 34 years of age.

BOURSE KHEDIVIALE

Remarques sur le marché du disponible et des contrats.
Samedi, le 11 Mars 1905.

Cotons.—Disponible.—La demande a été assez bonne, mais plus que jamais elle est restée confinée aux qualités supérieures, ce qui a fait, tout naturellement, que la baisse, qui s'est produite à la suite de la situation des contrats, a été plus sensible sur les cotons contrants et inférieurs. Aujourd'hui, pourtant, il y a du mieux.
Franco-station.—On n'y fait rien.
Contrats.—Nouvelle récolte. Elle a montré une très bonne tenue, malgré la modération des affaires ; il est juste toutefois de reconnaître que les avis de retard dans les ensemencements ici et en Amérique sont un point favorable aux idées de hausse.

Récolte actuelle.—Elle avait sensiblement reculé sous l'influence de la stagnation de l'Amérique et de l'augmentation des arrivages chez nous, mais depuis deux jours la tendance a changé et, avec les nouvelles de Mandchourie laissant entrevoir une probabilité de suivi de reprise, s'est produite. Tendance bonne.
Dans la matinée : prix plus haut pour mars 13 1/16 à — ; plus bas pour mars 12 1/16 à —.

Graines de coton.—Le disponible a été en assez bonne tendance, mais à cause des contrats les prix ont fléchi et perdu P.T. 1 1/2 du point le plus haut.
Franco-station.—Nulle part.
Contrats.—Nouvelle récolte. Elle était excessivement bien tenue par le fait d'un groupe de haussiers, mais tout appui commercial ou du dehors ayant fait défaut, elle a fini par faiblir. Affaires insignifiantes.
Récolte actuelle.—Le marché a été inactif et, comme fluctuations, il n'y rien eu de saillant. En résumé, c'est un baisse que nous finissons et, pour le moment, la position à Hull n'est pas de nature à favoriser une reprise chez nous.

Pecc.—Absence complète d'affaires sur toute la ligne. Toutefois, l'exportation est en train d'épuiser rapidement notre stock et si, comme on le dit, la nouvelle récolte est en retard, il y aura sûrement de la hausse sur les vieilles réserves.

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

ACTION IN ALEXANDRIA.

Mr. W. A. Coote, secretary of the London Vigilance Society, whose arrival in Egypt we notified a fortnight ago, was, last year, deputed by the International Conference which assembles every year, to visit this country to enquire into the truth of the representations made as to the necessity for vigorous action at Egyptian ports, for the repression of what is generally known as the white slave traffic. As a result of his investigations a meeting was held at the French Consulate at Alexandria on Saturday last, under the presidency of M. Girard, the doyen of the Consular body, at which were present the British, Italian, German, Austro-Hungarian, Swedish and Norwegian, Danish, Russian, Greek, Portuguese, and Spanish Consuls, Mr. Freeman (British Vice-Consul), Mr. Jas. Hewat (American Consular Agent), Rev. Canon Ward, Rev. P. Rudolph, Major Hopkinson, and many others interested in the question.

M. Girard briefly introduced Mr. Coote to the meeting, and in opening the latter said:—I need not remind you of the terrible nature of the crime referred to as the White Slave Traffic. You know the horrors inflicted upon innocent young women, of all nationalities, who, through fraud on the part of these traffickers, are, under false pretences, induced to leave their homes and country. In considering this question we must be careful to remember that these traffickers are not confined to one country or to one nationality. These white slave traders are men of all nationalities and all countries. As official representatives you are familiar with the nature of this terrible evil. I know, too, that you are not only keenly alive to the awful nature of this business, but have strenuously and energetically set yourselves to work to suppress this scandal in Alexandria. Apart altogether from your action, it is well-known in England, that in the person of Major Hopkinson, the Chief of the Police, we have a man who is a friend of humanity, and who is most anxious to do everything possible to suppress this evil, and ready to work in the fullest harmony with the International Committees of Europe. I want therefore to assure you all, consuls and officials of every grade, and of every nation, that I have not been sent to Alexandria to find fault with what you have done or left undone, but to lay before you a plan for the formation of an International Committee to assist the authorities in every way to more effectively deal with this question, and to work in full co-operation with the International Committees at present existing in Europe. Let me remind you that the committees in Europe have received the approval of the various Governments and the heads of the nations. The Tsar and Tsaritsa took a great interest in the formation of the Russian committee, and appointed H.H.H. the Princess Eugenie of Wurtemberg and H.R.H. the Princess Helen of Saxe-Altenburg as the first presidents. The acting chairman of the committee is M. Sabourff, a Minister of State, who attends all the conferences. In Germany the Empress was instrumental in forming the committee and appointed Count Keller, the Count Chamberlain, and Herr von Dierksen, as its presidents. In Italy the committee was also inaugurated by the King, and his Excellency the Marquis Visconti Venosta was present at the first meeting as representing the Government. In Spain the committee was formed as a result of a special order issued by the King, and Princess Isabella is the leading member of it. In Bavaria, the Princess Ferdinand von Bayern is the president of the Bavarian committee, which is a branch of the German committee. In Austria-Hungary the committee is both strong and active, and doing good work. I need not tell you of the sympathy of the English Government, for the movement originated there. The heads of the International Bureau are the Right Hon. the Earl of Aberdeen, the Right Hon. the Earl of Stamford, the Right Rev. the Archbishop of Westminster (Catholic), the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of London, the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Rochester, Mr. Percy W. Bunting, M.A., Dr. H. Adler, Chief Rabbi, and the Dowager Duchess of Newcastle. To France the whole of Europe is indebted for the splendid way in which the Government and the International Committee have co-operated, and have succeeded in putting this movement on a firm foundation. The president of the French Committee is M. Berenger, Senator, and Gustav Denis, Senator, M. Louis Lepine, Prefect of Paris Police, M. Georges Picot, the Comtesse de Biron, etc., take part in the work. The French Government in 1902 called an International Conference, at which 16 countries were represented by 36 delegates. At that conference certain articles were agreed upon, dealing with this crime from an international point of view. Previous to this conference it was impossible to deal with these traffickers owing to the following difficulty. The crime was commenced in one country and completed in another. As the crime had not been begun and completed in one country, no action could be taken by the police. In order to meet this difficulty those assembled at the Conference agreed upon Article 2, which says: "Every person should be liable to punishment who, to satisfy the passions of others, procures, persuades, or induces by force, threats, abuse of authority, or any other mode of constraint, any woman or girl of full age for the purposes of prostitution (débâche) even if the acts constituting the necessary element of the offence are committed in different States." Article 3 binds the high contracting parties to propose to their respective legislatures the measures necessary to punish such offences, if not already existing in the national laws. Already France, Germany, Russia, Italy, Spain, Sweden and Norway, have passed new laws dealing with this crime, so that now in Europe it is easy to punish the men who carry on this trade. In the Draft Arrangements attached to the Protocol the Governments agree, in Articles 2, 3 and 4. These articles make it the duty of each country to appoint agents to await the arrival of boats and of trains, with the view of notifying to the authorities a person who may be bringing innocent girls into the country for immoral purposes, to provide a home for a girl who has got into trouble, and who may desire to be sent home to her own country. She can rest in the home while investigations are being made concerning her. In England and other European countries the International Committees have provided agents, men and women, to meet the boats and the incoming trains at the ports and railway stations, to co-operate with the police in every way, and always to act under them. In this way we have been able to save thousands of innocent young women from falling into the hands of souteneurs. The work has been most successful in Europe, and the European committees are anxious that in Alexandria there should be a corresponding International Committee, working in the same way, and with the same object as those in Europe. I have, therefore, been sent to you to ask you to form an International Committee on the following basis:—You should appoint a Supreme Council, composed of the ladies and gentlemen of influence in Alexandria, with power to add to their number. From this Council there should be formed an Executive Committee, who would be responsible to the Council for the active propagation of the work, and for the general conduct of all the business. This Executive Committee should meet once a month, and should report to the Council, who would meet every three months. The duty of the committee would be to (i) Appoint a sub-committee of ladies to attend to the Home, and as far as possible, assist the matron; (ii) appoint an honorary secretary of the committee; (iii) collect subscriptions to meet the expenses connected with the Home, and other expenses connected with the work; (iv) to engage two agents—one a woman and the other a man. These agents would attend to the passengers on board the boats arriving from every country, not with the view of interfering with them, but for the purpose of rendering them whatever assistance they can. To be present at the arrival and departure of the principal trains; (v) to issue printed placards in several languages, telling young women in trouble where they can give information and find help; (vi) the committee should send all information to the authorities only after it has been carefully investigated. Before sending in any report it must be submitted to the committee, and if approved by them signed by the secretary on behalf of the committee.

These were the suggestions which Mr. Coote submitted for consideration, stating that this was the method adopted in England and other countries. For Alexandria they could be modified or added to as the committee thought fit.

Mr. Coote further said that he had had several interviews with Baron Jacques de Menasse, who was confined to his house through illness, or he would have been present at the meeting, and he had authorised him to say that he was in hearty sympathy with the movement, and that he would join the committee, and do everything he could to assist in putting a stop to this evil. Mr. Coote also stated that he had seen M. M. Cattani, in Cairo, and he had expressed his readiness to join the committee here.

He appealed earnestly to all present in the name of our common humanity, to become connected with the committee, that this great evil might be suppressed.

Mr. Coote's speech, which was delivered in English, was repeated in French by the chairman, after which M. Stichelkounouff, Russian Consul, spoke relative to work done at the port of Odessa, and stated that he had received instructions from his Government to do all in his power to assist the movement.

M. Scotidia, Greek Consul-General, spoke to the same effect, after which Major Hopkinson stated some of the difficulties that lay in the way of successfully proving the culpability and bringing about the punishment of the agents engaged in this traffic.

The following resolution was proposed by Mr. E. B. Gould, British Consul-General, seconded by Baron Acton, Italian Consul-General and unanimously carried:—

"That an International Committee for the suppression of the White Slave Traffic for Alexandria be and is hereby formed to work in connection with the European Committees already in existence, and that the following ladies and gentlemen be elected members, with power to add to their numbers."

The Governor of Alexandria, Mahmoud Pasha Sidky, who was unable from indisposition to attend the meeting, but sent a message expressive of hearty sympathy with its object, and his wish to do all he could in aid, was appointed president of the committee, Baron Jacques de Menasse will be treasurer, and Mr. P. G. Freeman secretary pro tem. The committee holds its first meeting on Wednesday next, and we hope to give a full list of its members when it is fully constituted.

NOTES FROM ASSIOUT.

VISIT OF PATRIARCH.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).

Assiout, Friday.
The Patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Community, Photios I., visited Assiout the day before yesterday, coming from Luxor on his way to Cairo. He spent twenty-four hours here and after visiting different quarters of the town, left yesterday at noon.

IMPORTANT CRIMINAL TRIAL.

Yesterday, the Assiout Court tried a very important criminal case. The four accused, together with a number of others, planned to rob with violence Mr. Bashra Hanna of his money, which they thought he was in the habit of sending to Cairo every week. They carried out their plans in January last, but on attacking Mr. Hanna's carriage, they found to their astonishment that instead of its containing money bags, the carriage was filled with soldiers having loaded rifles. The police had heard of their intention and had accordingly taken precautions. One of the brigands was captured, the rest escaped. He refused to mention the names of his associates, but three others were subsequently discovered.

The case was brought before the Court yesterday, Mr. Russell, Inspector of the Interior, and the Wakil of the Moudirieh attending. The pleadings continued from nine in the morning till half-past seven in the evening, when judgment was pronounced, condemning the accused to seven years' penal servitude.

KHEDIVE'S FORMER YACHT COLLIDES.

Despatches from Cetta to the "Petit Journal" state that the steamers "Planier," of the Franchet Cie, and "Mars," of the Compagnie de Navigation Mixte, had been in collision at about a mile from the "Bout de l'Épi est."

The "Planier," which had just arrived from Marseilles with a full cargo, had her bows stove in, while the "Mars," bound from Oran with fifteen passengers, mails and cargo, was struck aft on the starboard side, her stern, rudder and side being injured.

The "Planier" sank within twenty minutes of the collision. She is in 18 to 20 metres of water and only the tops of her two masts are visible. Salvage, in her case, is not believed possible.

The "Mars," which was a yacht formerly owned by the Khedive, was with great difficulty moored to the quai du Nord at Cetta, where unloading operations were immediately begun. The captain of the "Planier" is reported injured. No other accidents to persons are reported.

ROUTE III.

SWITZERLAND.

Switzerland, the heart of Europe, has been described as "a cluster of delights and grandeur." The country has an area of only 15,720 square miles, and borders as France, Germany, Austria and Italy. It also has the second distinction of being the source of three of Europe's largest waterways—the rivers Rhine, Danube and Rhodan. Mountains and lakes occupy almost the whole of Switzerland, there being practically no flat land or plains. The mountains of Alps are divided into three groups, the Pennine Alps, Helvetic Alps, and the Alpine Alps. The principal lakes are Constance, Geneva, Zurich, Lucerne and St. Gallen, then the lakes of Bienna, Thun, Brienz and Zug. The glaciers of Switzerland occupy about one-eighth of the space, and are about 400 in number, the principal of which is the Aletsch Glacier. There are also waterfalls of importance, such as the Rhine at Schaffhausen, the Aar at Hardach, Staubbach and Pfäfersch at Lauterbrunnen, etc., etc.

Certain points are recommended for the view and may be selected as follows:—Cel de la Finette, near M. Nacelle and M. Del, above St. Cergue near Geneva, Chamouni above Neuchâtel, Macchia above Bienna, the Hauterbrunnen above Olten, Albis between Zurich and Zug, Rigi between Zug and Lucerne, etc.

It depends very much on the point at which Switzerland is first entered which is to be the first stopping place: also whether the tour is on bicycle or foot, as naturally the cyclist wishes to be ever going on from place to place and never turning back along the same road. But as centres for seeing the beauties and charms of certain districts the following may be helpful to visitors:—LAUSANNE as centre for Montreux, Vevy, Nanchetel, St. Maurice, Marigny, Aigle, Bea, etc. INTERLAKEN for the Bernese Oberland, Grindelwald, Murren, Lake Arres, Thun, etc. LUCERNE for the Rigi, Plattau, Engelberg, Bruggen, Flatten, Wassen, Andermatt, Burgistein, etc. CHUR for the Engadine, St. Moritz, Davos, Platz, Pontresina, Klosters, Rogitz, etc. ZURICH, Dolder, Schaffhausen.

LUGANO is some 20 miles from Como and reached by train in one-and-a-half hours. It has a population of 10,000 people and is charmingly situated on the Lake of Lugano, amidst lovely Italian scenery. Around it rise M. San Salvatore, M. de Caprino and M. Generoso.

The Piazza Giardini, with its promenade and fountains, is close to the landing stage. A broad quay, the favourite promenade, extends the whole length of the town along the shore of the lake. In the Santa Maria degli Angeli is a fresco of the Baptist, the finest work of Bernardino Luini (1529). There are many interesting excursions to be made into the surrounding neighbourhood. MONTE GENEROSO, about 5,000 feet, is reached by taking a steamer or train from Lugano to Capolago, then the mountain railway, which runs to the summit. The view is magnificent, being one of the finest in the Lombard Alps. Monte Santerre is ascended by railway from Lugano Paradiso.

LOCARNO may be reached by rail from Bellinzona in forty minutes. This pretty town, situated at the top of Lake Maggiore, has a mild climate, and is an excellent winter resort. The church Madonna del Soccorso, situated above the town, is worth a visit. LUCERNE is an interesting point, "Enkomment," by Ciseri, and "The Flight into Egypt," by Bramante.

LUCERNE.—A striking picture on the Lake of Lucerne is seen by the falls with noise and foam, the Rigi and Plattau and the snow-clad Alps. Seven bridges cross the Reuss, but the two old ones, the Kapell Bridge and the Muhlen Bridge are of interest. Both have roofs, the former painted with scenes from the lives of the patron saints of Lucerne, and the latter with a Dance of Death. The old water tower near the Kapell Bridge used to be a lighthouse or "Lucerna," giving its name to the town. In and around the town the walks are charming, and the excursions to be made from Lucerne by boat, rail, etc., are very numerous. Points of interest in the town and the Hofkirche, dating from the 16th Century, the Lion of Lucerne Monument, near which is also an interesting garden, containing signs of glacial rocks of a remote ice period. In the Rathaus is a Museum of Antiquities, and the Kriegsmuseum and Friedensmuseum (War and Peace Museum) should also be visited.

The Lake of Lucerne abounds in delightful excursions, those to the Rigi, Plattau, Burgistein and Sonnenberg, needing a special visit each. Other excursions on the lake can be made by steamer, and the ever-changing scenery on the trip from Lucerne to Flatten is a source of delight to the lover of nature.

The Rigi is a famous ridge between the Lake Lucerne and Zug. The view is unsurpassed for extent and magnificence, including the view of 13 lakes, the Oberland, and many of the distant Alps. The sunset view is much finer than sunrise, and is best seen from Rathstock. Burgen from Kulm.

BRUNNEN, charmingly situated on the most beautiful part of the Lake of Lucerne, commands magnificent views of lake and mountain scenery. Along the Lake of Uri from Brunnen to Flatten runs the famous Aarenschnee.

It is opposite shore to the most famous health resorts of two ways; either by steamer from Lucerne to Koblenz, then the cable railway to the crest of the Burgsteig; or the other way is to be Stansstad by boat, and then down to the sea near Flatten. From Flatten the distance is about 100 miles by electric railway to Engelberg. The ascent of Titlis is made from here, and the panoramic view of the Alps is grand, extending from Monte Rosa to the Black Forest, and from the Saône to the Montebello.

MURON, capital of Canton Zurich, is beautifully situated in a mountain valley 1,400 ft. above the sea. As a commercial town it is perhaps the most important in Switzerland, having extensive manufactures in silk, machinery. The old town is still covered by a gradually rising ground by dwellings and public buildings, in the Federal Polytechnic university. An interesting excursion to the Zurichberg 2,000 ft. above the sea, from which a fine sunset view can be obtained. Another favourite place in the Uttli, about 6 miles south-west of Zurich.
